NEWS ALERT

Urgent Alert: Supreme Court Issues Decision Regarding Personal Devices

March 9, 2017

The use of personal email accounts and devices by public officials is a hot topic throughout the United States. California just became the epicenter of the debate, with a new California Supreme Court ruling regarding the use of personal emails and text messages.

All California property and business improvement districts, and any business or tourism improvement district formed under the 1994 Law, are subject to the Public Records Act. Most districts formed under the 1989 Law are also subject to the Public Records Act.

The California Public Records Act requires disclosure of most written records, upon receipt of a request from a member of the public. Generally, the requested records must be provided in 10 days, although under certain circumstances a 14-day extension can be implemented.

In a new ruling, the California Supreme Court has determined that district-related communications sent to private emails, or text message sent to private cell phones, are considered public records and subject to disclosure upon request.

Because most assessment districts are overseen by a volunteer Board of Directors, the use of private emails and text messages is commonplace. This new Court ruling requires that practice be re-considered, as any messages and emails will have to be disclosed if they are responsive to a request received.

We recommend that every district enact a written policy relating to records, which policy should be provided to and reviewed with all board members upon their swearing in.

We would be happy to assist your organization in creating a policy, or in scheduling a custom training session. Contact us here to learn more.

Hello all,

It is that time we recognize an officer from each BID at our annual awards luncheon. This year it will be on March 29, 2017. Official invite to follow. I need to know the name of your nominee and obtain a small write-up on why this person was chosen. We then need to arrange a photo be taken of this person.

Please let me know as soon as possible.

Thanks,

Hello Megan and Nate. Following up on our conversation, here are images of examples of graffiti on private properties in our BID completely surrounded by encampments. We cannot abate these taggings without risk to the safety of our maintenance workers, and we are prohibited from entering the Operation Healthy Streets closure zone during clean-ups. Therein lies the conundrum. Thoughts?

Thanks.

Thanks for the reply Estela. The exact spur route isn't really defined yet. What's key is that it hits 7th and Alameda and goes near City Market, the Fashion Marts, and 11th and Broadway, connecting to Pico Station. I gave the Metro team the following map which goes on 7th, San Pedro, 9th, Main and Pico, but it doesn't have to be on those exact streets.

Regarding DASH, we have been working for a while to get them to include an east-west line south of 7th st. in their upcoming realignment, but their only proposed new east-west line is on 7th – great for your district, but it doesn't really address the inadequacies of transit service for the areas to the south. Lack of service late into the night is also an issue, even with the extended hours they are proposing.

Thanks Josh. Miguel and also Ellen Endo from Little Tokyo met with the Metro team last week. Just to confirm, the spur is to connect via 7th and south on ??? to Pico.

Additionally, are you all aware that a new DASH line is in the works for a route that will connect AD, ID, FD and SP?

Subject: East-West Transit Line

Hi Everyone,

I wanted to fill you all in on some of the work we are doing to get a an east-west transit line connecting SP, FD, ID and AD.

- 1) First, I will presenting this project at the April 13th CCA Transportation Committee Meeting (John, please let us know if anything changes with the date). Please have as many stakeholders as you can attend this meeting as I will try to make a convincing case for why this is so important.
- 2) We met with Metro's West Santa Ana Branch project team last week and pushed hard for them to include studying a spur from 7th and Alameda to Pico Station through our districts as part of the West Santa Ana Branch project. If any of you have any meetings with them coming up – please ask them to study this spur (not in place of continuing the line up to Union Station – in addition to). Speaking as one voice as downtown stakeholders is very important and getting the line studied as part of the West Santa Ana project could be a way to connect it to a project that already is in the works and has some momentum with the Metro board.
- 3) We are also meeting with the two private companies that submitted unsolicited proposals for the West Santa Ana Branch to see if there are ways that a PPP could help fund the spur.
- 4) Once I finish the presentation I will give at CCA, I will send it to all of you to review, just to make sure it doesn't include anything that might create problems with stakeholders in your districts.

That's all for now. Please feel free to share any input you may have on this – I'm happy to discuss any time. Thanks!

No.

At this time we are waiting to hear back from Estela Lopez who indicated that she would contact Inner-City Arts regarding a March 9th Town Hall meeting.

I made a call to Ms. Lopez and left her a voice message. I have not yet received a response.

I have cc'ed Ms. Lopez to bring her into this conversation.

Hi Estela,

I'm so sorry that I never got back to you! But we helped to expedite a clean-up at 927 S. Stanford. Officer Carillo was very helpful and asked our office for assistance.

On another note, I wanted to see if you had any time to meet up with me to just discuss the area and all the ongoing issues? I would really appreciate any time you have and it can be a quick meeting, I just wanted to check in to see if there is anything new that I should know.

Best,

Megan

Hi Estela,

No problem. I was just down on Stanford yesterday at another site. I'll add it to our list.

There's a street in our BID district that is not covered under Operation Healthy Streets that is in need of clean up for public health/sanitation reasons, and the need is growing by the day. I have attached photos. This is the 700 block of Stanford Ave., both sides of the street. Could you please submit this request on our behalf? Thank you, and please let me know if you need any additional information.

Good Afternoon,

I hope this email finds you all well and dry. Exodus Recovery Sobering Center is set to present at our May meeting, however, given the nature of their organization I'd like to provide you with some general information in the meantime. Please see the information below. If you'd like to arrange a presentation for your individual BID before May, you can contact either Hilary Aquino (Program Director) haquino@exodusrecovery.com or Lezlie Murch (Senior Vice-President) lmurch@exodusrecovery.com.

Have a great weekend,

LA Fashion District BID

213-488-1153 ext. 713

The Sobering Center is open to referrals from all of the BID street patrol officers. BID staff/officers can contact the Sobering Center at the following phone number \(213\) 395-7700 and we can meet them at a location where an intoxicated individual is loitering/sleeping, etc. We also have a van and can pick up clients.

It is important to note that our services are VOLUNTARY and the Sobering Center is not a medical/detox facility. We do not administer detox medication. A client must be medically stable as well. We do have nursing staff on hand in case of potential medical issues arising during a stay but the Sobering Center is not a physical health clinic.

In brief the Sobering Center model:

- Located at 640 Maple Street the 50-bed facility diverts chronically inebriated individuals that may have otherwise been taken to the Emergency Department or Jail by fire or law enforcement and offer a safe and secure place for clients.
- The Sobering Center will serve the skid row community in downtown Los Angeles. Access to the SC is by a referring agency only, e.g., law enforcement, downtown outreach teams, community workers, BID staff. The Sobering Center will not take walk-ins.
- 24-hour/7-day operation with nursing care
- Linkage to services including detox and residential options will be provided upon discharge

You will find attached a brochure with further information.

NOTIFICATION OF NEW ENTITLEMENT APPLICATIONS – EARLY NOTIFICATION REPORT

To: Business Improvement District (BID) Contacts

From: Rocky Wiles, BID Liaison

Subject: LA City Planning BID Case report

Attached is the Planning Department's bi-weekly Early Notification Report for Business Improvement Districts (BID's). The purpose of this report is to provide BID's with the earliest possible information about all applications for planning entitlements that have been filed in your BID area, even though not all applications are complete and some cases may eventually be withdrawn. Included in the report is contact information about the applicant so your BID can obtain more information about the project very early in the process. A separate report is shown for each BID. You will see that the report is provided in PDF and Excel formats.

The information in the report is sorted by BID. If there are any questions, please contact Rocky.Wiles@lacity.org.

Hello Raquel,

I think Estela Lopez from Kindel Gagen forwarded you a report from me, so I wanted to just close the loop and let you know I had thought it would be relevant to you and your district. (it is attached here as well).

I commissioned and helped create the report a few years ago for an area of Brooklyn, NY with similarities to the CCEA.

I'd love to get together for lunch sometime and discuss this and other relevant topics.

Sorry to be so limited. I'm trying to do this sooner rather than later not because there's any emergency but it's just so darn nice of you to offer. Let me know if any of these work.

Hi Estela,

I'm so sorry that I never got back to you! But we helped to expedite a clean-up at 927 S. Stanford. Officer Carillo was very helpful and asked our office for assistance.

On another note, I wanted to see if you had any time to meet up with me to just discuss the area and all the ongoing issues? I would really appreciate any time you have and it can be a quick meeting, I just wanted to check in to see if there is anything new that I should know.

Best,

Megan

Hi Estela,

No problem. I was just down on Stanford yesterday at another site. I'll add it to our list.

Megan,

There's a street in our BID district that is not covered under Operation Healthy Streets that is in need of clean up for public health/sanitation reasons, and the need is growing by the day. I have attached photos. This is the 700 block of Stanford Ave., both sides of the street. Could you please submit this request on our behalf? Thank you, and please let me know if you need any additional information.

Hello, there are no membership dues for CPAB, which is our Community Police Advisory Board. I believe the money you submitted was to become a Booster member which helps out with all of the Community and Law Enforcement Events in the downtown Los Angeles area.

Hi Elizabeth. I have been back at the BID since October, but unfortunately I have not attended a meeting yet. I don't even know when/where they take place. Please advise. Also, I submitted a check in the amount of $250 at the "meet the captains" event recently, and that was supposed to be our membership dues, right?

Sure Tim, thanks.

Nate, why don't you start with your available times, days. If it's easier for you to meet at City Hall, that's fine as well.

Hello Estela – Apologies for the delay in responding. Before we go and enter into a community process, I would like to sit down informally with you to discuss expectations and limits. I think this will ensure useful community dialog and should inform the process. I would probably bring my architect and a community affairs representative. Perhaps Nate would want to join as well.

Let me know what you think, and please throw some dates out so we can figure out a good time to meet. We can do our place or yours.

Thx,

Hi Tim. Just reconnecting to ensure you know we're still interested in hosting a public meeting on this. I may now have a venue close to the property for such a meeting. I asked the ownership at ROW DTLA if they had space, and they do.

Let me know. Thanks.

Hey Tim,

Apologies for the tardy response. Not for lack of interest, I assure you! We had our BID annual meeting yesterday. Really didn't have much mental bandwidth left till that one was behind me.

So, yes, very much looking forward to speaking with you. I can do a call on Monday afternoon &/or an in person meeting on the following days:

11/28 morning
11/29 morning or after 3
11/20 afternoon
12/1 anytime before 3:30

Hey Tim,
I hope all is well! I did a drive around with Estela Lopez, CCed here, of 7th Street to checking out various beautification issues up and down the corridor. When we drove by your facility, what was to happen there came up. I suggested that Estela reach out to you so that you could provide her a full briefing on the project. She works for CCEA, an organization that represents property owners in the area. Would you mind connecting with her and briefing her on the project?

Thanks!

Hello.

Stella from EWDD made a presentation. I gave you folders of her presentation materials. She will email a electronic file so that you can send it to your BIDs.

Sanitation made a presentation on their HOPE project - with notice they clean the sidewalks and areas around homeless camps. They requested each BID to provide their top 3 areas of concerns to them. Adele (sanitation) indicated that he will send his contact info to Andrew. Most areas are selected through complaints to 311.

Thank you.

Merchants sometimes hire folks from the neighborhood for the purposes of security. I have several merchants who are referring to the victim as a "security guard," but Ari is correct.

Just to clarify, per LAPD, the victim was not a security guard - it was a transient.

Guillermo, there was a shooting this morning. Apparently a security guard was involved. Suspect ran and reportedly barricaded himself in one of the tents on the 600 block of Towne Ave. Barricade went on for several hours. Suspects were taken into custody.

I'm sorry I couldn't make it yesterday.

I discussed matter with Lt. Bertonneau, and he expressed the resource difficulty he would have to accompany the daily cleanings.

My thought was that as we get more 56.11 enforcement that we focus around the restroom areas. This may ameliorate any "ownership" feelings that one may acquire if they set up their tent at the restroom.

Absolutely. I would be delighted to meet next week. I am open Tuesday before 11am and Thursday anytime except lunch. I would encourage you to invite LAPD. The special team of officers assigned to skid row is the RESET team, under the direction of Lt. Keith Bertonneau. His email is 27664@lapd.online.

Our BID maintenance teams are experiencing same. In fact, I have had to remove certain streets from our regular sweeping grid. We do litter abatement on those streets only when we can assign security personnel to accompany our maintenance workers. Our clean team workers have been attacked and threatened.

Hi Estela,

I've been working with J Francois and Guillermo from JCDecaux about safety concerns for their maintenance/repairs team while assisting APTs in Skid Row. I wanted to introduce them to you in hopes of setting up a meeting between us. My hopes are that better coordination with your top-notch IDBID safety team could help to ease some of the issues.

Let us know if you have some time to meet next week.

Hello Honore. Capt. Rodriguez has been invited to tour the new ROW DTLA campus at 7th and Alameda on Thursday, March 2 in the afternoon. The invitation has been extended by the property owners, Atlas Capital, and their land use consultant Noel Hyun. I will be there as well. The property is being repurposed as a creative office center with numerous companies representing fashion, digital arts and architecture. Retail outlets will include jewelry, designer eyewear, clothing and more. The site will also be a dining destination, including eclectic eateries headed by nationally known chefs and food entrepreneurs.

Would you kindly help me arrange this meeting on the Captain's calendar? Thanks so very much.

Attached is the Planning Department's bi-weekly Early Notification Report for Business Improvement Districts (BID's). The purpose of this report is to provide BID's with the earliest possible information about all applications for planning entitlements that have been filed in your BID area, even though not all applications are complete and some cases may eventually be withdrawn. Included in the report is contact information about the applicant so your BID can obtain more information about the project very early in the process. A separate report is shown for each BID. You will see that the report is provided in PDF and Excel formats.

The information in the report is sorted by BID. If there are any questions, please contact Rocky.Wiles@lacity.org.

Hope this finds you well. Just wanted to remind you Capt. Rodriguez has been wanting to set up a meeting with you. I believe he initially requested to meet with the CM, but schedules have not worked out. I believe he requested a meeting with you, Paul. ?? It's not important whether I can attend or not. This is something he's been wanting to do regarding issues in Newton Area. Help?

NOTIFICATION OF NEW ENTITLEMENT APPLICATIONS – EARLY NOTIFICATION REPORT

To: Business Improvement District (BID) Contacts

From: Rocky Wiles, BID Liaison

Subject: LA City Planning BID Case report

Attached is the Planning Department's bi-weekly Early Notification Report for Business Improvement Districts (BID's). The purpose of this report is to provide BID's with the earliest possible information about all applications for planning entitlements that have been filed in your BID area, even though not all applications are complete and some cases may eventually be withdrawn. Included in the report is contact information about the applicant so your BID can obtain more information about the project very early in the process. A separate report is shown for each BID. You will see that the report is provided in PDF and Excel formats.

The information in the report is sorted by BID. If there are any questions, please contact Rocky.Wiles@lacity.org.

Hey Tim,
I hope all is well! I did a drive around with Estela Lopez, CCed here, of 7th Street to checking out various beautification issues up and down the corridor. When we drove by your facility, what was to happen there came up. I suggested that Estela reach out to you so that you could provide her a full briefing on the project. She works for CCEA, an organization that represents property owners in the area. Would you mind connecting with her and briefing her on the project?

Thanks!

Hello Chief. Yes, so happy to make your acquaintance as well.

I'd love to have you come to our office, if at all possible. We can chat informally and I can familiarize you with what we do. I'm near the intersection of 7th & San Pedro. Would next Tuesday work for you? I am open EXCEPT between noon-2.

Thanks so much.

I sent an email to her recently thanking her for all her efforts and telling her that we are actually seeing improvements. LAPD has been much more responsive and it does seem to be making a difference.

She was quick to tell me that the two of you have been an important part of helping us and the neighboring building owners. I wanted to reach out and thank you and let you know that your efforts are both making a difference and much appreciated!

Subject: Meet and Greet Wednesday Event

Hello all,

I know this short notice, but I would like to invite all of you to an event on Wednesday, between 11:00 -2:00pm. It will be a Meet and Greet for both of the new Captains assigned to Central. I would like to see all of you there if possible. Please bring your staff also. We will be having food provided by The Chairman food truck and Saul's Tacos. It will be located at the Angel City Brewery, 216 S. Alameda. They would be opening their bar if you would like to partake.

Additionally, please spread the word to your constituents. All are welcome.

Thanks,

Subject: Upcoming Protests

Hello all,

I hope this email finds you well. I have received numerous inquiries on why we allow people to take over the downtown area during protests. A follow-up question, why doesn't the Police Department object to these protests and marches. The Chief of Police has taken a stance that we will not object to any First Amendment Rights protests or marches. They are essentially approved before we get them. All we ask is that the permit puller complies with the Bureau of Street Maintenance rules.

You can ensure your constituents that we have more than adequate resources to handle anything in the DTLA. Every entity of the Department is in uniform and at the stand-by. We have hundreds of officers on stand-by in various locations within the Downtown area to respond. I have directed by Senior Lead Officers to patrol your BID area and pay close attention to the vulnerable areas and the BID headquarters especially.

Hopefully, it will continue to rain and the crowds will be small.

If you have any problems, please feel free to call me.

Take care,

Mike

Estela,

I don't know who from the City told your accountant that but you will be receiving the General Benefit each year. It's in your management plan and it must be included in the annual report.

On Thu, Jan 19, 2017 at 5:30 PM, Estela Lopez <ELopez@centralcityeast.org> wrote:

Rick, here is what our accountant told me:

The $38,251 was the general benefit income from 2016. We did not include any general benefit income in our 2017 budget because the city has told us they're not sure if we will receive this each year.

So if we agree on that, I would presume that in order to correct the APR we simply need to remove the General Benefit amount from the report altogether.

On Wednesday, January 18, the street vending issue will come before the City Council. It is expected that the actions will be to direct the City Attorney to draft an ordinance decriminalizing street vending and to direct the City Attorney to draft an ordinance setting up the framework for vending that was presented in the letter from Councilmembers Price and Buscaino in late November. This is not a final vote on the issue.

We do not know if they will allow public comment or not, in light of the extensive hearing that was held in December, but we believe it's important that we have a number of people representing our views at that hearing. Hi Paul and Martin.

As you prepare for the FY 2017-18 budget, I would like to offer for your consideration a small expansion of Operation Healthy Streets. Presently it covers an area bounded by Third St. on the north and Seventh on the south. The encampments are now expanding south of Seventh, but still mostly concentrated in a one-block area extending to Eighth Street.

You may not have received this information previously because OHS works exclusively with LAPD Central Area. Central's boundary is Seventh St. South of Seventh St. is within Newton Division.

I met yesterday with Newton Capt. Jorge Rodriguez, and this morning with Senior Lead Officer Mark Hyland. Both are in agreement with me that this slight modification would help tremendously. The public health issues that affect Third to Seventh Streets have now expanded to Eighth Street.

Capt. Rodriguez and I would like to meet with you to provide you with the information to support this request.

Thanks so much.

I've also had preliminary conversations about this with CD14, the mayor's office and Hilda Solis's office – all of which have agreed it's a good idea and I think would be likely to support some version of this if we can show a lot of community support. I've also worked jointly with the Fashion and Arts district BIDs on submitting a letter making the case for such a line to Metro in conjunction with Measure M (Although it was so late in the process, the point was really for us to get something on record establishing the need). And of course I started working on this when Jessica Lall was with SPBID and had her full support. So I think we have a good base of community support to work with.

Looking forward to speaking with you!

Josh, what a great idea and opportunity. Yes, by all means. Let's meet. I didn't want to say this in the blast email, but CD 14 is behind what I wrote. I've received a ton of support from them. Just waiting on next steps with DOT and others.

I can do something next week if you want. Wednesday afternoon 1/18 would be perfect. If not then, we can do the following week. I'm open 1/25 at 2pm or all day 1/26.

Say hi to Ellen for me.

Hi Estela,

I'm not sure if I've met you formally yet, but I am the Director of Real Estate and Planning for the South Park BID and also serve on DLANC with you. I have been working for a while on building support for an East/West transit line (preferable rail) that would connect South Park, Fashion and Arts Districts. The original idea was to have the line go east from the fashion district/southern Historic Core along 8th or 9th street over to 7th and Alameda, but I think having it going up San Pedro and then along 7th street in your district would make much more sense based on comments below. I'd love to meet for coffee in the next few weeks to talk about this and other transportation related issues Downtown. I'm currently putting together a presentation that makes the case for this line and I think having a unified voice with Industrial, Arts, Fashion and South Park BIDs is very important in pushing for something like this. Please let me know if you have any availability. Thanks!

Bravo, Shane. I had already read your "short" version on FB and intend to dive into the longer one this evening. I want to stay in touch with you, as promised, on how we here in the Industrial District BID will be contributing to DTLA 2040.

One proposal: 7th Street as Downtown's missing east/west connector.

We've reached your same conclusion that DTLA has a north/south orientation, with no east/west thoroughfare designated for mobility or pedestrian enhancements. Our area has no share in the substantial transportation investment in DTLA. We have no bike lane, no Metro bikes, no DASH, anemic bus service, no rail. Heck, we don't even have crosswalks. Yet, 7th St. is a wide, 2-way straight line to Metro's 7th & Flower station, and could link together the Fashion District, Industrial District and Arts District to the rest of Downtown. Because almost no one parks on 7th St. in the Industrial District, we can reimagine the street with the improvements we desperately need without negatively impacting on-street parking.

Happy to join the conversation.

Subject: DTLA 2040 proposal -- feedback, next steps?

Hi all,

Over the past few months I believe I've spoken to almost all of you about the need for a more aggressive DTLA 2040 community plan update—one that includes more housing, better value capture, and greater flexibility. I've also been working on writing up my copious thoughts on the topic, and those are now published on my blog.

For the short, summary version, you can go here: <http://www.betterinstitutions.com/blog/2017/1/9/demand-more-dtla2040-community-plan-update-summary>

And for the much longer, 9,000 word post (which is maybe closer to a report), you can find it here: <http://www.betterinstitutions.com/blog/2017/1/9/dtla2040-community-plan-update-recommendations>

As I write in the posts, I put this together to help start a conversation and hopefully convince downtown stakeholders of the opportunity before us with this community plan update. How we shape that opportunity will be a group effort. My understanding is that City Planning will be holding a scoping meeting for the DTLA 2040 EIR in mid-February, so it'd be great if we can be organized enough to speak with one voice in demanding something bigger and more bold.

I'm not sure I'm the best person to organize everyone, and I'm certain that we're missing some potential partners (I don't really know anyone from the Arts District BID, Historic Cultural Neighborhood Council, or Skid Row organizations, for example). I'd really welcome everyone's input on how you think we should proceed, because we don't have much time. Our options will narrow once the EIR is underway, so the sooner we can get organized, the better.

Looking forward to working with all of you on a bold plan for DTLA's next 20 years,

Shane

Melissa,

Thank you for your correspondence regarding the issues you and your employees are experiencing as it relates to the homeless population and criminal activity outside of your business.

I know that Sergeant Walker from our RESET (Resource Enhancement Services Enforcement Team) detail met with you on December 20, and again today, to discuss the issues. I was also informed that a crime report for the vandalism to your trucks was completed.

Since that first meeting with Sergeant Walker, our RESET officers have added your business to a list of locations that must be attended to each day by our RESET officers. The officers start at 5:00 A.M. and respond to these locations first thing in the morning. Our detail officers will also go back to your business in the afternoon and will take enforcement action that is appropriate and lawful.

In addition, since that first meeting, our officers have issued 15 warnings, completed 15 Field Interview Cards, and issued 7 Misdemeanor citations outside of your business.

Moving forward, we will assign Field Training Officer Veronica Padilla, from our RESET detail, to act as a liaison with you and your staff, so that we can have a good working relationship and continuity while addressing your concerns.

As I'm sure you are aware, case law and statute have limited our ability to take action as it pertains to these situations. In addition, a good portion of the problem must be handled by the Department of Sanitation. Therefore, we asked that your location be added to the their Healthy Streets Operation initiative, so that their services can assist with cleaning the area. We were told that our request was approved, which is great news for everyone.

I believe with our enforcement efforts, coupled with the assistance of the Department of Sanitation, we will progress towards making that area safe for everyone.

I look forward to working with you and please reach out if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Captain Marc Reina
Commanding Officer
Central Area

Michael and Patti, thank you for allowing me to connect you with Ellen. She is not new to the BID, so I know you've already been in each other's company. Now that she is the interim ED, it is all on her shoulders. Ellen is joy to know, and a very capable new leader.

I hope this e-introduction helps start a great conversation. I'll let you all take it from here.

Hi Estela,

Here is the policy language about expansion of affordable housing options east of San Pedro:

Objective 9.1 To address the problems of the homeless population by creating a mix of policies, services and facilities that better serve their needs.

Policies 9-1.1 Preserve the existing affordable housing stock through rehabilitation and develop new affordable housing options.

Program: Retain and develop new supported housing opportunities for homeless people. Program: Continue the rehabilitation of existing housing under nonprofit ownership and management. In the area west of San Pedro Street, allow new housing which is affordable to neighborhood residents. Provide affordable infill housing east of San Pedro Street, in areas of existing housing clusters.

It is interesting because it suggests that the only type of housing that should be allowed between San Pedro and Alameda is affordable housing/supportive/SRO housing given that housing is otherwise not allowed.

You can find it on page 42;

Objective 9.1 To address the problems of the homeless population by creating a mix of policies, services and facilities that better serve their needs.

Policies 9-1.1 Preserve the existing affordable housing stock through rehabilitation and develop new affordable housing options.

Program: Retain and develop new supported housing opportunities for homeless people. Program: Continue the rehabilitation of existing housing under nonprofit ownership and management. In the area west of San Pedro Street, allow new housing which is affordable to neighborhood residents. Provide affordable infill housing east of San Pedro Street, in areas of existing housing clusters.

It is interesting because it suggests that the only type of housing that should be allowed between San Pedro and Alameda is affordable housing/supportive/SRO housing given that housing is otherwise not allowed.

A very sincere THANK YOU to everyone who made this possible. We are so grateful.

Beginning tomorrow, we will place these new cans strategically throughout our BID area, which includes the majority of skid row. We will secure them as we have always done, and service them Mon-Sat 7:30am-3:30pm. We are changing our BID maintenance personnel assignments so that we can service these cans more frequently, and will evaluate our new protocol and continue to make adjustments to meet the demands.

None of this would have been possible without your support. Thank you so very much.

These are going to be serviced by the Downtown Industrial BID. The map of where they will be placed is attached. All will not be rolled out at the same time. We have cans out there already, which we service Mon-Sat. Many of them are seriously damaged. We will use yours to a) replace those existing cans and, b) augment can availability especially on streets in skid row that are too dangerous for our BID personnel to manually sweep. We have devised a new method involving more frequent servicing of cans vs. sweeper personnel on foot.

Manic Creative Brainstorming Session on Alternative Housing for the Homeless

Changed: I would like to invite you to a "Manic, Creative, Brainstorming Session on alternative housing types for people experiencing street homelessness."

This is a working session to explore design, processes, sites, sense of community, safety, and whatever else it would take to develop 2 to 3 pilot temporary- bridge housing sites to transition people from the streets into housing with dignity. We want to take a deep dive into tiny home villages, congregate living, containers, pop-up shelters, and other alternatives where-ever our imagination will take us. The time is now for the best ideas to come forward. We can host up to 25 people so please feel free to share.

I will confirm the brainstorming location by the end of the week.

Thank you!

Hello Estela,

Thank you very much for reaching out.

I will be with Howard Leslie all day on Monday, 12/19, touring the division. How does your schedule look that day?

And my cell number is 213-305-4541. Please feel free to call or text if you ever need anything.

I look forward to meeting you.

Huge Arts District development along LA River races for approval; here's an early look

By Christopher Hawthorne

Another high-design megaproject is being pitched for the Arts District, this time right alongside the Los Angeles River.

The Gallo family, longtime owner of the Rancho Cold Storage facility on Mesquit Street, has teamed with rising-star Danish architect Bjarke Ingels and real estate firm V.E. Equities to propose a sizable new development consisting of two connected buildings, 30 stories tall at their highest point.

The project, called 670 Mesquit, would hold approximately 800,000 square feet of office space, 250 rental apartments and two boutique hotels as well as shops and restaurants. Stretching north from the 7th Street Bridge almost as far as the forthcoming 6th Street Viaduct, it would replace Rancho Cold Storage's warehouse buildings along Mesquit.

The design also calls for a small museum or public sculpture park connected to a broad deck that would extend over the train tracks that divide the Rancho property from the Los Angeles River. That deck is at once the most compelling and the most speculative part of the proposal; building it would require cooperation from a slew of public agencies and companies including the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority, Amtrak, Metrolink and rail giant BNSF.

"The major contribution to the transformation of the Arts District could be creating this deck over the rail yards," said Ingels, whose firm, Bjarke Ingels Group (BIG), is at work with British designer Thomas Heatherwick on corporate campuses for Google in London and Silicon Valley, among several other high-profile projects. "The Arts District doesn't have a lot of open outdoor space. This could be the way to get from the Arts District all the way down" to the edge of the river.

The development, BIG's first commission in Los Angeles, comes on the heels of the September announcement that another noted European architecture firm, Switzerland's Herzog & de Meuron, is working on a massive Arts District development at 6th and Alameda streets. Crowned by a pair of residential towers, it would fill an entire city block.

Ingels and the developers will introduce the project to neighborhood groups and members of the media at a meeting beginning 5 p.m. Monday at 2014 E. 7th St. It would require significant variances from L.A.'s planning department, including a general-plan amendment to allow residential units and a higher level of density than is currently permitted. The developers are expected to file paperwork with City Hall next month.

The timing is significant. In March, Los Angeles voters will consider the Neighborhood Integrity Initiative, a measure that calls for a two-year moratorium on development projects requiring general-plan amendments. Gallo and V.E. Equities hope to have their entitlements in place, at least in preliminary form, before then.

That leaves planning director Vince Bertoni and Mayor Eric Garcetti in a delicate spot. Giving a high-profile project the variances it needs so close to the March election could lend fresh ammunition to critics of the city's notoriously opaque development process. The location of the proposed development along the L.A River, directly across from Boyle Heights, could also complicate its political path.

An effort to produce a new master plan for the river, overseen by River LA (a nonprofit created by the city) and architect Frank Gehry and announced last year, has drawn fire for its secrecy and generated worries that it could lead to a land rush in certain neighborhoods. Opposition to high-end development has been especially intense in parts of Boyle Heights, where even art galleries have come under attack as the advance guard of gentrification and displacement.

Even as the developers of the Mesquit project are looking ahead to the election in March, they have also modified the design to comply with Measure JJJ, which city voters passed by a large margin last month. It requires residential developments to employ local union labor and include a specific number of units for low-income residents. In the case of the Mesquit Street project, the developers say, that would mean 41 affordable units.

"We're still evaluating the project, and we want to see how it meets with our overall vision of the Arts District and downtown L.A. and our plans for affordable housing," said Bertoni, the planning director, who met with Ingels last month. "But I think Bjarke understands the L.A. of today and the potential of L.A."

Bertoni said covering the train tracks could create an elevated urban promenade overlooking the river, with some resemblance to the popular High Line park on the west side of Manhattan.

"Everyone compares everything to the High Line now, for better or worse. More important is how these buildings interact with the river. We don't want to wall the city off from the river. It looks like they are trying to create permeability through the buildings."

Architecturally, Ingels' guiding idea is to create a superstructure of giant concrete frames — each 45 feet square — into which glass-walled offices, apartments and shops could be slotted. Some tenants could choose to build a single high-ceilinged space inside one of the frames; others might divide the space into two or three floors or separate it with mezzanines.

The frames, topped with landscaped terraces, would step down from the edges of the complex toward the middle. Some of them would be kept open as voids to preserve pedestrian access or views from the river toward downtown (or vice versa). On the interior of the development the two buildings would almost seem to nest one inside the other, in a manner Ingels compares to the yin-yang symbol: The structure filling the southern end of the site would grow wider on one edge as it rose, the other narrower.

Ingels' design combines the clean lines and economy of minimalist art and postwar Los Angeles architecture — like countless out-of-town architects before him, he cites the Case Study program as an inspiration — with the brawny infrastructural forms of the freeway and the concrete-lined L.A. River. The superstructure of the development, particularly as viewed from street level, bears some resemblance to the lower sections of the proposed Herzog & de Meuron project.

Ingels emphasized that although the BIG design is meant to allow each residential and office space to be customized, the communal spaces will feature a consistent aesthetic that he called "carefully crafted but industrial.” His firm would design the handrails and every outdoor light fixture. Elevators would rise through voids in the superstructure.

“We’re not going to turn it into the Centre Pompidou,” Ingels said, referring to the 1977 Paris art museum, designed by Richard Rogers and Renzo Piano, that features an exterior covered with escalators and a colorful array of pipes and air ducts. “But we want to create this framework where the bones of the building are what unite it.”

The risk — as with all of the projects emerging from BIG’s huge and increasingly busy office — is that the project, in final form, won’t quite make the leap from clever and opportunistic to something more architecturally powerful or profound.

Ingels may soon begin turning out work that crosses that divide; at 42 he is young by architectural standards, a wunderkind in the field. (The far more experienced Jacques Herzog and Pierre de Meuron, for what it’s worth, have shown themselves capable of consistently bridging that gap in a string of impressive recent projects.) As much as this project, if built, will be a barometer of changes in the Arts District, it will be a measuring stick for BIG.

What could really set the Mesquit project apart from recent large-scale L.A. developments is its urbanism: its close relationship to the river and a pair of bridges crossing it. This will be particularly true if the communal spaces feel fully public and the developers can manage to get approval (and find money to pay) for the decking over the train tracks.

The north end of that elevated platform would lead toward a park and arts plaza planned at the foot of the Sixth Street Viaduct, an innovative bridge design by Michael Maltzan Architecture, HNTB, A.C. Martin and the landscape firm Hargreaves Associates that is expected to be completed in 2019. Metro has also considered adding an Arts District rail stop near the base of the new bridge, though that plan remains tentative.

Ingels presented the Mesquit design to The Times in a meeting, held at Rancho Cold Storage, that included Frank Gallo, Rancho’s vice president, and Zach Vella of V.E. Equities. Michael LoGrande, Berton’s predecessor as planning director and now employed by V.E. Equities, was also in attendance, as were some younger architects from BIG.

After the meeting broke up, some of the group headed out toward Mesquit Street. Two black town cars were waiting near several gleaming Teslas even as a steady stream of giant container trucks rumbled down the narrow street. It made for the perfect automotive tableau of a Los Angeles neighborhood in dramatic flux.

Subject: Street Closure for Protest March, this Sat Dec 10
Attachments: Second protest_1.pdf; NO DAPL info sheet.docx

Good Morning,

For Saturday

(1) There will be a permitted street closure for this Saturday December 10th. This event will begin at 11 AM on 5th Street north of Pershing Square, and wind through the Financial District, eventually concluding with a rally at 3rd and Hope. (See attached map)

(2) There is an additional protest for the same cause scheduled at 8:30 in front of the Wells Fargo Bank on Olympic at Figueroa. (See attached). There is no permit application for this and it will likely be very small if it occurs. Most of the persons who would attend this will likely be at the larger one starting north of Pershing Square.

For Sunday

(3) No protest marches. There will be a large celebration for the Virgen of Guadalupe at Olvera Street, that will may result in a street closure of Main Street overnight. The closure will likely be from Sunday at 9 PM until Monday at 6 AM.

By way of advance notice, next weekend (Dec 17th and 18th), there will be a permitted Trump Protest March each day. While the routes are not locked in, they will be in the downtown area. Saturday's march (Answer LA) will begin near Union Station and end near Pershing Square. Sunday's (Immigration Rights) will start at Pershing Square and end near City Hall. Both will begin near 11 AM and end near 3-4 PM. More details next week when they are finalized. LAPD and DOT will be at scene for crowd management and traffic control/diversion.

Thank you,

Hey Tim,

I hope all is well! I did a drive around with Estela Lopez, CCed here, of 7th Street to checking out various beautification issues up and down the corridor. When we drove by your facility, what was to happen there came up. I suggested that Estela reach out to you so that you could provide her a full briefing on the project. She works for CCEA, an organization that represents property owners in the area. Would you mind connecting with her and briefing her on the project?

Thanks!

Streetplus for safe (and clean in SPII), LA Conservation Corps for clean (in SPI).

We love the program managers, which is the main reason we're sticking with the vendors. Generally, Streetplus is responsive and reasonable. One downside is that they're based in NY, but they travel out to LA every 2 weeks and usually spend a full day on site. LACC provides a solid service. We struggle with retention because of the nature of their program, but our program manager, Victor, is fantastic. Historically I know the BID has found their leadership somewhat difficult to work with, but their new(ish) ED, Wendy Butts, has been nothing but pleasant with me. Overall, we're happy with both vendors.

Hope that helps. Thanks for your cell.

Hi Shawn and Clare,

This building is actually in our Industrial District BID boundaries but on the edge of the Toy District. The owners would like to come in and meet with Mr. Huizar. Karin Liljegren at Omgivning is their architect, and she will bring renderings and plans. I am told it's a by right project; no hearing required. They simply want to brief Mr. Huizar on what they are planning to do. The building is directly across the street from the Little Tokyo lofts and the Downtown Womens Center.

I'm happy to put in a request through Mayra, but I wanted you to know what this is about before I do. Please let me know your thoughts. Thanks!

FYI

As Lt Benson indicated in his email on December 29, Crime Control will be moved to Monday's at 1400 hours, except for January 2 and 16. Those meetings will be trailed to Tuesday of that week at 1400 hours --- due to the Holiday.

Additionally, there will be an internal Crime Control meeting with Captain Reina and Harrelson every Thursday at 1000 hours. There may be additional meetings scheduled if there is a crime spike, however those meets will occur on a case-by-case basis.

CAD: Please notify our Community Partners of the new Crime Control schedule ... thank you.

Thank you,
Tricia
